SOCIAL CHATTER AND HOME TALK

THERE has been a decided cessation in the social affairs of Honolulu during the past week; most of the entertaining has been of an informal nature. Luncheons, bridge and dinner parties have occurred to break the monotony of social life in town. The coming and going of the smart set is daily gossip, for those who have summered out of town are returning, and those who have been abroad are homeward bound, while others who decided to postpone their summer vacation, in order to spend the holiday season with their dear ones on the mainland, are busy making preparations, in order to carry out that project. Mrs. Frank Richardson, who has not been going out socially on account of the death of her sister, will leave on the China, the 30th of October for San Francisco. Mr. Richardson will join his wife shortly before Christmas in the Western metropolis. The Jack Gals who have been touring Europe for the past six months, are in New York, after the big Thanksgiving football games, they will start homeward, and arrive in Honolulu to celebrate Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kennedy have taken apartments at the St. Francis, in San Francisco; during their sojourn in California, Miss Irene Fisher will be the guest of Miss Jessie Kennedy at 1432 Victoria Street.

Dinner Dance at Country Club.

At the Country Club on Tuesday evening, a dinner party was given by Doctor and Mrs. Monsarrat in honor of Mrs. Julian Monsarrat. The party motored to the pretty Club house; dinner was served at 7:30. The table decorations were red and white carnations, and asparagus fern. Each place card bore a snap shot picture, taken at Kapapala Ranch—the guests all having at some time, been guests at that place, which is the home of Mrs. Monsarrat. A quintette club played during dinner, and later for dancing. Those present beside the host and hostess and their guest of honor, were Mrs. Jack Dowsett, Mrs. Raymond, Miss Athalie Lovey, Miss Violet Makee, Miss McIntyre, Miss Maggie McIntyre, Mr. George H. Robertson, Mr. Sam Walker, Mr. Robert McCormiston, Mr. Frank McIntyre, Mr. Herbert Dowsett and Mr. James McIntyre.

Miss Rhodes' Supper.

Miss Ada Rhodes entertained at a buffet supper Monday, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gay, of Kauai and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elston of Berkeley, Cal. The house was decorated appropriately for the occasion. After supper, "Bridge Whist" was played, and pretty prizes were awarded. Those present included most of the guests, who had partaken of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gay's hospitality at a house party, given tained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gay and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elston at his Nuuanu Valley home. Red roses were used as an effective decoration; many fetching frocks were worn by the bevy of young maids and matrons, and of course the conventional dinner coat was worn by the sterner sex. Those who participated in Mr. Jordan's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gay, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elston, Miss Ada Rhodes, Miss Phinney, Miss Clark, Miss Elston and Messrs. William Williamson, Bond, Arthur Mackintosh and Clarence Waterman.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Castle's Buffet Supper.

In compliment to Mrs. Selden Kingsbury, who has been their guest for the past week, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Castle entertained at a Buffet Supper Saturday evening. The supper was served on the beautiful circular lanai of the Castle's home, which was decorated with palms, hanging baskets and choice flowers. Among those present besides the host and hostess were Mrs. Kingsbury, Mr. and Mrs. L. Tenney Peck, Judge and Mrs. Philip Weaver, Mr. Locke, Miss Beatrice Castle, Mr. Sherwood Lowrey and Mr. Allan Lowrey.

Mrs. Carl Holloway's Supper.

The Holloway home, in Nuuanu Street, was the scene of a jolly supper party, Tuesday evening, which was given in honor of Miss Viven, a guest of Mrs. Holloway. The long supper table was decorated in chrysanthemums, with dainty place cards to match; after supper the entire party motored to Moanalua and Wai-iki. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Schaefer, Miss Biven, Miss Vera Damon, Miss Harriet Hatch, Miss Violet Damon, Miss Alice Hedeman, Miss Mosher, Mr. George Brown, Mr. Farrar, Mr. Sherwood Lowrey and Lieutenant Kilgore.

Judge and Mrs. Ballou's Dinner.

Wednesday evening, Judge and Mrs. Sidney Ballou entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Knudsen, at their Nuuanu Valley home, the dinner was quite elaborate, the table decorations of yellow, were both unique and original, and promoted much pleasure and merriment; the decorations by a less accomplished hostess could not have been attempted. Those present were Judge and Mrs. Ballou, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Knudsen, Miss L'Orange, a sister of Mrs. Knudsen, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilder, Doctor and Mrs. Charles Cooper and Doctor Hedeman.

Luncheon at British Consulate.

Mrs. Ralph Forster was the hostess at one of the prettiest affairs of the week. The English Consulate never looked more attractive than on this occasion—with its decorations of exquisite cut flowers—covers were laid for ten and luncheon was served at one o'clock, during the afternoon the game of Bridge was enjoyed. Those present were Mrs. Ralph Forster, Miss Gras, Mrs. Francis Gay of Kauai, Mrs. Charles Elston and Miss Elston of Berkeley, Cal., Mrs. Sidney Ballou, Miss Clark and Mrs. Phinney of California, Mrs. Charles Forster and Mrs. Charles Wilder.

Mrs. George Waterhouse's Tennis Tea.

Mrs. George Waterhouse invited a number of friends to a Tennis Tea, Tuesday afternoon, to meet Mrs. Eric Knudsen and Miss L'Orange. The afternoon was ideal for an out of door entertainment, and the women looked picturesque in their fluff dresses and shower hats. Several excitings games of tennis were witnessed, late in the afternoon tea was served by the gracious hostess under the beautiful palm trees; about thirty guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Riggs' Dinner.

Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. J. Morton Riggs entertained at an informal dinner; pink geraniums and pink place cards, carried out the color scheme of pink. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. Morton Riggs, Mr. and Mrs. James Dougherty, Mrs. Hagens and Mr. Charles McAvoy.

Japanese Consul's Luncheon.

The Japanese Consul Uyeno was host at a charming luncheon Monday at the Young Hotel, given in honor of the Prince and Princess Kuni and their party; the table decorations were red roses and maiden hair fern.

last summer on Kauai. Owing to the close friendship of the guests the entertainment was most informal, which added to the enjoyment of the evening. Besides the guests of honor, Miss Clark of California, Miss Phinney of Southern California, Mr. Arthur Mackintosh, Mr. Allison Jordan, Mr. William Williamson and Mr. Bobby Bond were present.

Paymaster and Mrs. Hornberger's Dinner.

Paymaster and Mrs. Hornberger of the Navy, gave another of their charming little dinners Wednesday evening. The affair was given in honor of Mrs. Selden Kingsbury. Yellow was chosen as the color scheme; feathery yellow chrysanthemums occupied the center of the table, while quaint miniature baskets with handles, containing salted almonds were found at each place, attached to the handles, with yellow satin ribbon, were the name cards, designating the guests' place. Mrs. Hornberger was becomingly clad in a lingerie frock, the guest of honor wore a heavy white silk embroidered crepe gown with Persian trimmings. Those present were Paymaster and Mrs. Hornberger, Mrs. Kingsbury, Mr. and Mrs. L. Tenney Peck, Captain and Mrs. Winters and Mr. Charles McAvoy.

Governor and Mrs. Frear's Dinner.

Tuesday, Governor and Mrs. Frear entertained at dinner, complimentary to Judge and Mrs. Francis Hatch, at their home on Punahou street.

Twelve places were laid on the beautifully appointed table, which was covered with a handsome damask cloth; inserted the center of the cloth, was an exquisite square of lace, over pink silk. No set decorations were used, with the exception of the silver candelabra with pink silk shades, while rose pink begonias and maiden hair fern were scattered promiscuously over the table, giving a beautiful floral effect. Those present were Judge and Mrs. Francis Hatch, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cooke, Judge and Mrs. Woodruff, Mrs. Selden Kingsbury and Colonel Hawes.

Mr. Jordan's Dinner.

Prior to their departure on the Siberia, Mr. Allison Jordan entertained at a dinner, Wednesday evening, at his home on the Nuuanu Valley.
